That there are many unemployed the state, as defendant had the right Italians in Westerly by reason of the of appeal.

Judge Williams said there had strike for more pay and less work, as demanded by the local branch of the National Hod Carriers' and Building Laborers' union, was evident at the regular session of the Third district court Friday, when Vincenzo Mairino, alleged to be of Albany, and traveling delegate for the union, was tried on the charge of threatening and intimidating an Italian laborer known as Frank, No. S. Every seat in the court room was occupied and fifteen-sixteenths of the spectators were Italians. Mairino was arrested on complaint of William J. McDougal, who has the sub-contract for the brickwork of an addition to the Ashaway Clay works. Mr. McDougal testified that the accused came on the job last Tuesday morning, after Frank had been at work about ten minutes, and asked witness to—sign an agreement that originally was intended to be in operation May I, but which had been changed so as to go into effect April 5, and signature was refused. Frank was receiving $1.75 for a workda- of eight hours and was satisfied with the job. The delegate told Frank that he must quit work fight away. Frank pleaded, saying he was getting union pay and union hours, was satisfied with the work and needed the money for the support of his family. The delegate said that made no difference, he must quit work or he must pay a fine of $1 a day. Frank took his tools back to the toolhouse and quit work, as did the other eight laborers employed by Mr. McDougal. Frank was the only man at work when the threat was made; the others stood near, evidently awaiting Frank's decision.

Frank's decision.
Earl Robinson, general manager of the clay works, was with Mr. McDougal when Mairino asked McDougal to sign the paper. Heard the delegate in sign the paper. Heard the delegate in a threatening and domineering manner order Frank, No. 8, to quit work, telling him that he must leave or be fined $1 a day. Frank remarked that he was satisfied with the work and wages and that it was too bad that he had to quit, as he had a family to support; but Mairino persisted and Frank and the other laborers went away.

Charles W. Ecclestone, a stone mason, Frederick Harrington, a bricklayer in the employ of McDougal, Herbert Niles and Arthur C. Harrington testified, as did also Tony Muinati and

CHIPPENDALE'S BONDS

Property Was Encumbered. It is thought that arrangements will be made whereby Harry Chippendale of New London, committed to the county jall from the superior court in this city on Wednesday evening on a charge of manslaughter, may be able to secure the required bond of $800 and be released today (Saturday), at least that was the prospect Friday night. The plan to get the prisoner released Thursday fell through because the property of the New London man who offered to go on Chippendale's bond was found to be encumbered.
